BHAVAN'S FAITH

Let me once more set forth the Bhavan's faith for the benefit of new students and members, for it is necessary that they should understand it clearly and imbibe its spirit. The Bhavan stands for the reintegration of Indian Culture. In a world falling to pieces under the impact of an amoral technological avalanche, it tries to hold fast to the fundamental values for which our culture stands - Rita, Satya, Yagna and Tapas.

FAITH in God Who informs the Cosmic Order;

TRUTH which is accord between mind, word and deed;

DEDICATION which offers all movements of life as an offering to God;

SUBLIMATION which purifies the body and mind and transmutes instincts, passions and emotions into things of beauty.

This, regardless of forms and doctrines, is Dharma, the three-fold aspects of which are SATYAM, SHIVAM, SUNDARAM - Truth, Love and Beauty.

For these values our forefathers lived and died. So did Sri Ramakrishna Paramahansa, Swami Dayananda, Swami Vivekananda, Gandhiji and Sri Aurobindo, among the moderns.

These values are embedded in our nature. We command the respect of the world because of them.

We can look forward to the future with confidence only because they have the vitality which gives the power to vindicate their validity even in this fear-and-avarice-ridden age of ours.

We, the Bhavan's family, whether it is the smaller one or the larger one, must make every effort in restoring an awareness of these values in personal and collective life.

Preamble

Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan :THE LEGACY

Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan (BVB) was established by legendary writer, statesman and academician Kulapati Dr. Kanaïyālal Manēklāl Munshī in 1938, in Mumbai. The idea was to promote educational and professional training with the values, virtues and the culture of India. Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan (popularly known as Bhavans) was founded on Kartik Sud Purnima, Samvat 1995 (November 7, 1938), almost a decade before the advent of India's Independence - with the blessings of Mahatma Gandhi.

Bhavans is a charitable public trust, dedicated to the promotion of Education, Art and Culture. In his inaugural address of Bhavans, Shri Munshiji said,

"For many years it had been the dream of the Sahitya Sansad to crystallize its work, by creating a centre in which the ancient learning and modern intellectual aspirations of this land could combine to create a new literature, a new culture. The Bhavan will be a new association which will organise active centres where ancient Aryan learning can be studied and where modern Indian culture will be provided with a historical back-ground."

Today, Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan is a very well-known institution with a large number of colleges, schools, cultural centres, and other institutions within and outside of India. Through these institutions, it makes a significant contribution to the academic, cultural, and social development of the entire nation.

The Bhavan provides education in a variety of subjects, including Arts, Science, Commerce, Engineering, Modern Management, Mass Communication, Information Technology. Even in foreign languages like French, Spanish, Russian, German, and Japanese, through its numerous schools, colleges and institutes dispersed throughout India. They range from kindergarten to postgraduate and research levels. Additionally, they also promote National Integration and Communal Harmony, Purity in Public Life and Rural Regeneration.

The Bhavans is registered under the Societies Registration Act XXI of 1860 and the Bombay Public Trust Act of 1950. Bhavan's has 367 constituent institutions, 119 kendras (branches) in India and 6 centres abroad.

DIRECTOR'S M e s s a g e

Shyam Parekh
Director, RPICM

We are proud to carry forward the legacy of our founder Kulapati Dr. Munshi's commitment to shaping our students, professionals, and managers in the Indian context. He believed that apart from leadership, managerial skills, teamwork, motivation, and professional skills, they are also expected to have a human approach in resolving problems.

RPICM is happy to announce the completion of its mandate to re-invent all the courses that it has been offering for over six decades. The syllabus of our courses is being revised and updated every year. The job of innovating new courses is a constant and ongoing process. The result is that every year's prospectus brings in new introductions!

Munshiji believed that without knowing one's own country, its great women and men, and without knowing their contribution, just learning about the present day, may not have much relevance. Therefore, the professionals coming out of Bhavan's constituent and affiliated colleges should have a special trait, stamp, and quality. He strongly believed that no country can progress and prosper unless it is founded and anchored in its heritage and values, which are contributed to and sustained by generations of its people. And he saw this even before globalisation made it imminent.

Since 1961, this Institute has been evolving to address the challenges that modern times present to any educational institute. COVID-19 did bring us to a grinding halt. But we started working with increased zeal to translate Munshiji's vision into action for the 21st century. Re-inventing the legacy courses, developing new syllabi, and imagining new courses for future generations is how we are evolving into a future-ready institute.

Our Standard Operating Procedures (SoPs) are helping new partners, affiliate institutes and centres to come on board RPICM. We are now introducing extensive online support for the students, pooled subject experts from across the country, and many more initiatives have been planned. These steps will help us serve more students across the country, more meaningfully.

We will always strive to serve students and working professionals alike. While ensuring that they can pursue courses offered by RPICM at a time and convenience that doesn't collide with their work timings.

The purpose of our unique offering is that the students get a chance to acquire some skills even while they are pursuing studies or doing a job or business. Blended and hybrid mode courses are also being introduced soon. We request your sincere support in spreading the word about our courses and encouraging more and more students across the country to benefit from it.

Aims and Objectives of RPICM

1. To create effective and good leaders, managers and professionals, mainly in management and communication fields, as well as in other disciplines.
2. To develop the physical, intellectual, emotional and spiritual capabilities of children. To inculcate a sense of discipline, social responsibility and self-reliance in consonance with our culture and tradition.
3. They are expected to effectively steer the industries of future as managers and communicators and thus help build a better India.

Bhavans' Flagship Course: Indian Culture

CH-I Cultural Heritage of India

With an understanding of History, Indian Culture and the concept and aspects of Heritage that defined India

Cultural Heritage of India is a subject that is part of all the courses offered at RPICM

Cultural Heritage Of India

K.M. Munshi, Founder of Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan, envisaged that a content of culture is so essential to create good managers, who could effectively steer the industries in future. So, apart from the Courses in “Management” and “Communication”, taught in our colleges, a subject on “Cultural Heritage of India” was added in the syllabus to give the mental orientation, patriotism and sense of heritage to the budding Managers. Dr. K.M. Munshi believed that without knowing one's own country, its great men, the contribution made by them, the present may not have any relevance. Therefore, the Managers coming out of Bhavan's Constituent and affiliated colleges have a special trait, stamp and quality. Apart from leadership, managerial skills, team work, motivation and so on, these managers would have a human approach to problems. This human approach has reaped a golden harvest of achievements in their careers, prospects and progress. Many of the managers are serving in India and abroad. But this philosophy of humanistic impulse has paid rich dividends to them and brought joy and satisfaction to the Alma Mater itself. When the fundamental values of a culture cease to inspire the life of the dominant minority in a people, the culture dies. It is the duty of the younger generation to keep alive our culture. In conclusion, no country can progress and prosper unless it is founded and anchored in its heritage and values contributed and sustained by generation of its people.

This is an essential course for all the RPICM students, irrespective of the course they choose. Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan is one of the oldest educational institutes in India. Its professional courses are most popular for skill upgradation and acquiring new skills amongst both working professionals desirous of career growth and students. Some of the certificate courses lead to a diploma, recognised by several universities in many states. Students successfully completing some of these courses are considered for many government recruitments in some of the states. Four of the Diploma Courses conducted by the Rajendra Prasad Institute and its various colleges have been recognized by the Government of India, Ministry of Education and Social Welfare (Department of Education).

(1) Diploma in Industrial Relations and Personnel Management (IRPM) By their Notification Number F.I 18-26/76/T-2/T71 dated 20th April, 1979, the Central Government have recognised the Diploma (not external) "For the purpose of recruitments to superior posts and services in the appropriate field."

Student Advisory:

RPI courses are offered to help students and professionals acquire new skills, learn and get trained to succeed in their work. All the courses have been developed for the said purpose. Over the decades many of the RPI courses have been recognised as diploma courses by multiple institutes, universities, state or central government departments and ministries. Some of them have been considered as equivalent to the first year of a Master's course by specific universities, allowing admission straight into the second year after completing RPI course.

Many government departments have also considered some of these courses as qualifying ones for specific government jobs. Many students have benefited from these courses, for the purpose of study and work abroad. However, admission rules, curricula and syllabi, course parity as well as nature and scope of courses offered by different universities keep changing and evolving constantly. RPI has no control over such changes. RPI would like to strongly advise all the student candidates seeking admissions in any of its courses, offered through its centres or affiliates, to check the acceptability and recognition of the specific course to the organisation, university or institute of your choice for either higher education or immigration.

A similar advice is given to all seeking a specific job either in the government or private sector, to check the acceptance and recognition of the specific course as valid qualification for a specific job by your potential employer.

Please note that RPI or its parent institute BVB, shall not be responsible for acceptance or recognition of validity of its courses or lack thereof for the purposes listed above or for any other purpose.
